THE MEETING:

The meeting was well attended with 17 people present including three guests. Julie Galbraith and sons Eric and Kyle, guests of the Pooles, were on hand to witness all that goes on at a chapter meeting. Hopefully we will see them again at future meetings. They witnessed the largest mart we have had in quite a while being set up and browsed over carefully by the fourteen chapter members attending the meeting. President Dennis Cordy could not be there for this meeting, and Jim Kneiling remembered enough from his days a President to take over and run the meeting smoothly and efficiently.

Everyone was pleased to see Pat and Shirley Cavanaugh back at the meeting.

The picture to the left shows last minute looking and discussions before the meeting began.

Old Business:

- We are still not meeting the quota of officers needed to run the chapter. We are lacking a Vice President and hope that someone will step up and volunteer to take on those duties.
- Members who have not paid dues yet for this year have been dropped from the roster.
- No news to report on the project to work on state clocks.

New Business:

- Reports from those who attended the regional in Kent, were generally pleased and found it to be a good meeting. There were many mart tables for those who came on the first day. Tableholders leaving early was a problem.

- The treasurer reported that our current balance is $2,080.67.

The Mart:

The mart was heavily stocked with clocks and books and some watches.

The Program:

The program was a video that showed a game show based on Jeopardy style play. The categories were horological and covered a variety of topics. Much murmuring could be heard as chapter members made their own guesses as to the answers. Based on the smiles, nods and pleased looks we have many intelligent and well informed members in our chapter.

Show and Tell:

The letter for this month was "I"

- Tom Seymour brought an Ingraham Ionic wall clock.
- George Lytle showed us an Inclined plane clock.
- Jim Dent brought us Bugs Bunny and Roy Rogers alarm clocks by Ingraham.

- George Poole brought an Ingraham Antwerp advertising clock. If you were there you heard an interesting story about that one!
- Pat Cavanaugh showed us an Ingraham “Bizarre” model that belonged to his Grandparents. (Gotta love those family clocks!)
- Shirley Cavanaugh displayed an Information clock. One that displayed the day, date, month and time.

The Raffle:

The raffle made $34 for the chapter, and George Poole, Jim Dent and Ritva Lytle were the luck winners.

THE PICNIC:

- The picnic meeting for August 9 was organized. Dennis will be grilling, Al will attend to the beverages. Charlie made a motion to invite Chapter 31. Dave seconded the motion. So the picnic should be even bigger and better than last year.
